AD MEN MEET TONIGHT.

Will Consider the Subjects Dear to Their Hearts.

The next regular meeting of the Salt The hext regular meeting of the sait Lake Ad club takes place this evening in the quarters in the Commercial club building. In addition to the regular business of the club, there will be several carefully prepared papers read. W. D. McDonald of the Hubbard Publicity company will address the club on the vital subject of "Better Copy." John H. Janney, advertising manager of The Herald-Republican, will take up the subject "A Greater Sait Lake Ad Clib." This promises to be a very interesting paper as considerable effort has been devoted to gathering information on the work of organizations of a similar nature. Leo L. Levin, advertising department of the Sait Lake Tribune, will supply the hearty laugh of the evening with a burlesque paper entitled, "O'Connor's Dream!" The principal business to be taken up will be the election of a new sceretary, and the appointment of five delegates to the annual convention of the association of American advertisers, to take place in Omaha, next July. Those interested in advertising or in the work of the Sait Lake Ad club, are extended a hearty invitation to be present. Lake Ad club takes place this evening
